And they further represent that the erection of a bridge over the Penobscot river at that place would greatly convene the ichabitants at the villages of Upper and Lower Stillwater, and the tratelling public generally who have occasion to travel up and down the Penobscot river by the State and Military roads and that the prospect of an ultimately free communication through the great thorough are from Bangor to Houlton is of the highest importance to the interests of the community and the State, and 1) EVOTED to the defence of a rational and cut river on that route, during the present impover-

We ask the attention of our readers to the fol-The subject discussed is one of importance to and prosperity of the whole State the prople of Maine, _interesting in fact to evspaken of between the North Eastern and South Western sections of the State, is an improvepropie of Maine one this to themselves and to the State at large A rail road between Portare now; however, in a business way, fairly at this? system we must be made rich, if we are made

A NEW ROUTE SUGGESTED ACROSS THE ALLANTIES

Our attention was first drawn to this subject last spring, after moing in Washington a well. dra .. a may, giving the loute, the distance, the harder of the sailing of the Great-Western from wistel in England to the city of New York. We saw, or thought we saw, upon the face of that man, the evidence of two facts. first, that be navigation of the Atlantic by steam, was a thing every way practicable, and secondly. that there was a much safer, a much cheaper and mote bap deligue route from Greet Britsin than LBC offe thirde by our New York backetslips and by the strain ships between England and the Uited States, since the sailing of the Sirus and Great Western. The route we have in contemplation is be tween Great Britain and one of the British A merican Provinces, between Bristol in Eng. land, for exeample, and St. Johns upon the east tern sheres of Newfoundland. Trom this point; we would -pr a Pat Road ventbloked surner Newfoundland to the waters of the Gulf of St awezece; where we would have a committee tion by steamboat to New Britiswick, and from thence a Rail Road to Pouland, either by atriatoring route to Bangor and Augusto, or through tion of this route for the steam ships should be objectionable, one perhaps still more favorable hight be established, lessening the distance and the danger. A landing face might be made Johne, and a short Rail Road established a crive the neck of land above the main body o the land of Newloundland This, if practicable, it appears to us would be the best route. Reaching the waters of the Gulf, the same route wouldbe pursued to New Brunswick and Maine, as we have already mentioned. A third-and fourth route from Great Britain to the Proxinces, have been mentioned, and both, from time to time have attracted no inconsiderable share of attention in the Frovincial papers. One of them pro poses a direct route from Great Britain to the Bay of Fundy, and another from Great Britain to Halian. There are warm friends for these two fast routes in all of the Provinces, and one retrincial bas frecues itrell warmly to Lord Durham and Sir John Harvey in taver of the projet.

Aut antiposing stero compouncation to be eaces, of what advantage would it be to us to the State of Malue to New England and the United States? We answer, to the United cept so far us a benefit is conferred upon the prople of one of the States. To the New Eng. land States, as such, perhaps no greater advan tage than receiving in part some small and unimportant benefit for themselves, and conferring Egreat good upon a sister State. Massachuset's and New Hampshire will receive some lew advantages, while Maine, we grant, will have the greater benefit, and may, by this, and other like improvements, snatch the sceptre from her nex-sioher-and more enterprising neighbors. But we still hear the question ringing in our cata again. What good is Maine to receive from buch an enterprise as this?

We answer again first that such a commu-nication between Great Britain and the United States, levens the distance materially between the two countries and secondly it is the salest and chempest route of communication. A woyand we speak not without note far niere haurrdous in bad weather, than 'a voyage from Great Britain to the Provinces. The line acr. ... the Atlantic between the British Changel and Renformeland, is a straight line, and a sten whip has little more to do than to be head ed to the west, and the wished for port will pick Let up in salety. The course from Liverpoof to M. A. Pork, is; at best a crucked one by the pres-PHI rouse, and not always without danger. The Ma found) and, styrighing from 40 te __ Meg. month latt, and laying upon the very course of a chip bound to N. Y. are to be passed, ard in this obstruction, the distance and danger ly is greater, and the distance materially lessen-By the route we have proposed, a line of stanis-packets to the Provinces, and a Rail Road to Portland, and from Portland to Poston we believe . and we are not alone in this opinion, for a have then gains to just the opinions of the first informed men in the country. pas no gare line, angland is the II.
